PRELIMINARY REPORTS

POPULATION COUNTS FOR STATES

August 1960

PC(P1)-1

United States

[This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication. The preliminary figures shown in this series of reports will be superseded by the final figures to be published during the next few months in Advance Reports Series PC(A1).]

A record increase of 27.7 million occurred in the population of the United States in the 10 years ending April 1, 1960, according to the preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This increase exceeded the former all-time record for the previous decade by 8.5 million (table 1).

The preliminary total for the 50 States and the District of Columbia is 179,000,000 as against a final population count of 151,325,798 for 1950 (table 2). The 1960 figure includes an estimated 1.1 million persons enumerated on special forms not allocated to their State of usual residence, but does not include an estimated 660,000 members of the Armed Forces overseas. The estimated 1.1 million persons not yet allocated to the States consists mainly of crews of American vessels in ports of the United States and persons enumerated away from their usual place of residence. The 179 million total does not include members of the Armed Forces and their dependents living abroad, crews of American vessels at sea or in foreign ports, and American citizens living in foreign countries. Neither does it include the inhabitants of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and certain other areas under the American flag.

REGIONS

As in the previous decade, the West led the regions in both the amount and rate of growth (table 2). The population of the West increased by 7.6 million, or 37.4 percent.¹ The West was the only region in which the rate of growth was greater than the 18 percent increase for the Nation as a whole. The most populous region, the South, ranked second in the amount of growth--7.3 million--and its rate of growth--15.4 percent--was the same as that of the North Central Region. Gains of 6.8 and 4.9 million were recorded in the North Central Region and the Northeast, respectively. The latter region had the smallest rate of gain--12.4 percent.

DIVISIONS

The two divisions in the West--the Pacific and Mountain Divisions--led the divisions in the rates of growth, with increases of 38.5

and 34.1 percent, respectively. The Pacific Division also had the largest absolute increase--5.8 million. The 5.6 million gain for the East North Central States was second to that of the Pacific States. This division and the South Atlantic were the only divisions other than those in the West which had a rate of growth in excess of that for the Nation.

STATES

The preliminary counts for the States show that New York continues to be the most populous and Alaska the least populous State (table 3). The nine highest ranking States in 1960 were New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Michigan, New Jersey, and Massachusetts. These States were also the highest ranking in the same order in 1950. Florida, however, advanced from the 20th State in order of population size to the 10th State, and there were some additional minor changes in ranking among other States.

California surpassed all the States in the amount of growth since 1950 (table 4). The 4.9 million gain for this State accounted for nearly one-fifth of the increase for the United States. Second to California in the amount of growth was Florida, with an increase of 2.1 million. Other States with gains of more than 1 million were New York, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, and New Jersey. Seven States had increases of 500,000 to 1 million. These 15 States accounted for 20.6 million or three-fourths of the increase for the Nation as a whole. On the other hand, three States--Mississippi, Arkansas, and West Virginia--and the District of Columbia lost population. Of these, Mississippi and Arkansas also had declines between 1940 and 1950.

Florida had the largest rate of growth--76.3 percent. Three additional States had rates in excess of 70 percent--Nevada, Alaska, and Arizona--and 15 additional States, including Hawaii, our newest State, grew at a more rapid rate than the country as a whole.

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 3,245,806, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 184,063, or 6.0 percent, over the 3,061,743 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-2, which will be issued between August 1960 and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

Georgia

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 3,910,817, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 466,239, or 13.5 percent, over the 3,444,578 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-12, which will be issued between August 1960 and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

August 1960

PC(PI)-15

Illinois

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 10,005,955, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 1,293,779, or 14.9 percent, over the 8,712,176 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-15, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 4,633,395, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 699,171, or 17.8 percent, over the 3,934,224 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-16, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices.
The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 2,742,753, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 121,680, or 4.6 percent, over the 2,621,073 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-17, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 2,177,822, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 272,523, or 14.3 percent, over the 1,905,299 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(A1)-18, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 3,015,967, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 71,161, or 2.4 percent over the 2,944,806 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-19, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

August 1960

PC(Pl)-20

Louisiana

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 3,233,859, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 550,343, or 20.5 percent, over the 2,683,516 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each parish, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(A1)-20, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

POPULATION COUNTS FOR STATES

July 1960

PC(PI)-21

Maine

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 961,967, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 48,193, or 5.3 percent, over the 913,774 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, each incorporated place of 1,000 or more, and each minor civil division. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(A1)-21, which will be issued between August 1960 and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population compiled in the 1960 Census field offices. The series contains 57 reports which are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication)

The population of the State as of April 1, 1960, was 3,074,860, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1960 Census of Population. This figure represents a gain of 731,859, or 31.2 percent, over the 2,343,001 inhabitants of the State enumerated in the 1950 Census.

This report presents preliminary counts for the State, each county, and each incorporated place of 1,000 or more. The preliminary figures will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in Advance Report PC(Al)-22, which will be issued between August and November 1960. The final population totals may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1960 Population Census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D.C., or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.
